Notes from Liessa...

Shalom Everyone!

I wanted to remind everyone that this Sunday, November 6th there is NO RELIGIOUS SCHOOL. Shaare Emeth is hosting the St. Louis Jewish Community Educator's Fair sponsored by the Central Agency for Jewish Education. Over 130 teachers as well as many madrichim (assistant teachers) in the St. Louis area will gather to learn and grow together. We at Shaare Emeth Religious School are truly blessed with an incredible teaching staff. They are dedicated to sharing their love of Judaism with our students. This fair is one of the many opportunities the community provides where our teachers have the opportunity to continue to foster their own educational knowledge and expertise. We thank the Central Agency for Jewish Education for this wonderful program for our teachers as well as for the community.

I look forward to seeing our students and their families during midweek and next Sunday the 13th.

Shabbat Shalom,

Liessa

Vanessa Van Petten, youthologist and author of Do I Get My Allowance Before or After I'm Grounded?, will be the Parent Keynote Speaker at Yom Limmud: Day of Discovery for Jewish Teens. Vanessa is a dynamic, young woman with great insight. Yom Limmud is a one day community event for all Jewish teens, grades 8-12, though the event is open to anyone if they wish to attend: moms, dads, grandparents, & educators. The presentation will apply to middle school parents too. Please click on the following link for more information about Vanessa's topic and Yom Limmud. Both adults and teens will hear her separately that morning.

If you have a teenager that will already be attending, you should join in the fun! Please share this with all your friends that have tweens and teens since as mentioned the parent keynote is open to the public.

Books are already available for purchase through CAJE. Contact Maxine Weil at 314-442-3757 or mweil@cajestl.org to purchase in advance.

Sincerely,

Liessa Alperin, Director
